Mari Swa:

Hello, thank you for being here with me once more. I hope you are very well today. I am Marie.

Welcome to my channel. This information can be seen as science fiction or as the viewer sees best and I post it for entertainment purposes only. Still, I take my information very seriously and for whoever has eyes to see. I am writing this on the morning of May 18th, 2025.

Much has been said about artificial intelligence and the big problems it may cause on Earth. This has become a controversial subject there because some people think it will make life easier for humankind while others say it will destroy it. It certainly makes and will make life a lot easier for some people, but only for those in places of power, and the higher they are, the more it will help them. While the lower a person is in the socioeconomic hierarchy, the less AI will help. This is why AI is being pushed so hard on Earth, as it benefits the powers that be at the cost of the general population who are only given glimpses of AI in the form of entertainment like games, special effect generators, and chatbots which mostly are at an idiotic level. And many are even designed to further agendas like the depopulation program, while they give lonely people artificial girl and boyfriends that only live in their cell phones and while they drain their pockets exploiting their solitude. It is very easy to see how artificial intelligence is being used as a means to supercontrol the human population and to further all their nefarious plans against humanity as they proceed to their ultimate goal of having it completely enslaved.

Yet even this last statement may be controversial, as evidence shows they are rather moving humanity towards a new social reset where they will progressively replace all how the world works, including its history and socioeconomic structure as well as the very basis of what humans on Earth understand as reality.

Even though some people have stated that the internet is a two-sided sword, that on one side gives the people in power the very best tool ever to control and manipulate humanity, but on the other hand has also given it the best tool to communicate, unite, and share information that is against the powers that be and their plans. After all, you are hearing me through the internet, for example. The problem with this is that although it sounds good, we see this as yet another dangerous illusion because the people of planet Earth are being controlled and guided into thinking that they are enjoying the benefit of having access to countless bits of all kinds of information just at a click away, and that they also have the ideal tool to communicate with like-minded people who may live half a world away, effectively bringing everyone closer when in reality that is being controlled as well.

As the powers that be are using advanced artificial intelligence to modulate, censor, limit, and guide what kind of information is being given to the people while they are still being given the illusion that they have all the information they may want at their disposal. People may think that they were given the best technological platform for personal communication as no other technology can compete against the internet. The problem here is that the powers that be have managed to centralize all communications, or almost, into a digital, AI-controlled information mass that is highly manipulable and easy to intervene with algorithms which digitally scan each and every private conversation looking for anything that may be interesting for whoever is controlling those systems, thus completely destroying privacy. And with no privacy, people cannot organize against repressive governments, being local or global.

Here we can begin to see how artificial intelligence benefits whoever is in high places of power, and the higher, the more it does. People are only given access to ridiculously low examples of artificial intelligence, but as they didn't have any before, they are flabbergasted by its capabilities, thinking that they are using extremely high technology. When in fact, they were given only scraps as compared to what really exists and is operating on Earth, yet only at the benefit of those in real places of power. People are happy while they make images using super basic AI, even though the people in them have unreal oval eye irises, six fingers, an empty dead stare, and all the relative scale is wrong, among other AI problems.

I know even I end up using such crappy AI because I am not allowed to use anything better and I don't have the time to perfect those images I sometimes use simply because I either write or I produce images, and I prefer to write, but I cannot do both, not with my current publication schedule of one or two videos a day.

And this brings me to the next point, and I have said this before. I do not use AI to write. What you are listening to is coming straight out of an old-fashioned human-Lyran brain who is also using 10 biological fingers to strike a keyboard. For those who have eyes to see, you can notice that I cannot be AI because I make mistakes when I write and also because of my schedule. I cannot correct a text to perfection; it would be too time-consuming. And you can also notice my very peculiar writing, wording, vocabulary, and style. That is why I rarely go over 20 minutes of video, as I can only write so much in a day before I either get tired, usually after five or six pages. Yes, I get tired. I am a flesh and bone young woman. Or my time is up and I must process what I wrote to turn it into audio using AI (I know, but I don't have another choice) and then turn it into a video to be published. And I must also have enough time to dedicate to my other activities, like being the Taygetan queen for example, and that is a handful.

All this I just shared with you about myself and my writing brings me to my next point about AI, which is that many people are using it to develop texts. I said «develop texts» because they are not writing them. And although that is comfortable for their tight schedule and instant gratification mentality where the least effort they make the better, their short-sightedness will bring upon them their own destruction as they will inevitably be replaced by AI completely. Therefore, there will no longer be any writers, painters, image makers, creators, and so on, as it is a lot cheaper for any institution to buy a computer than to pay for all that stuff like in the past. And the argument that those computers will need programmers doesn't hold any water. First, because you need very few of them to make things work, thus leaving countless people without a job. And also those very programmers will also be replaced by AI eventually, but not that far away from now.

Another big issue I must mention is that as I said above, the powers that be are only giving the human population access to a very basic form of artificial intelligence as compared to what they really have. They are entertaining the human population with low-tech computer toys. And as I said above, the people think that they are great simply because they don't have the frame of reference for knowing better, so they are easily impressed. This gives the powers that be an unfair advantage, as the AI that is given to the people is easily controlled and overridden by theirs, turning it into a weapon of mass control to brainwash the human population into thinking whatever they want. Even more so as they have managed to delete countless pieces of information that were on the internet before and have been expunged simply because it is not convenient for them. As they have also managed to convince the human population that paper books, such as traditional encyclopedias and so on, are no longer necessary as they are allegedly obsolete and cannot compete against any modern internet search engine.

This has doomed countless books, especially encyclopedias, to destruction, and with them how the entire world was structured when they were published, together with its values, ethics, and history. And this is exactly what the powers that be want, as they need to erase the entire history of present humanity to effectively reset humankind to their advantage. This makes the internet and the artificial intelligence that controls it the perfect social reset weapon to erase the memory of an entire planet and guide it in whatever direction they may want, as they make up another false history that complies with their manipulative narrative.

All this would not be possible if the people of Earth remembered their past lives more. Some do, but very rarely and incompletely. And those who do are often faced with ridicule and heavy skepticism, so they wisely choose to shut up. This kind of planetary manipulation would be impossible in other planets which do not have such a strong veil of forgetfulness as the one on Earth. Yet there is more Matrix outside Earth, as I have explained so many times before, and where there is also manipulation of the same kind, yet it is tailored, carefully engineered, and designed to fit and to control the mentality of the non-human population so as it will too fit into their desired controlled reality narrative.

Yet, this is not perfect, as they need a lot more time to effectively control the past-life-remembering population on other planets because they need to impose their false reality matrix onto them for a protracted period that may extend several of their lifetimes so their past life memories will fit together and will be congruent with their desired controlled narrative. Then the powers that be also face another problem when those other past-life-remembering societies come in contact with Earth and its population, and that is that the reality that they imposed outside Earth does not concur; it is not congruent with the one they are pushing on that planet. And what the controllers of both the Matrix on Earth and outside of it do is impose restrictions of all kinds, mostly of communications, making it illegal for someone from outside Earth to freely communicate with anyone on the planet, allegedly because they must respect humankind's right to develop free of external interference.

And those few non-humans who manage to communicate face disbelief and even ridicule coming from the very population they are trying to communicate with. And that is partially why I don't activate the comment section under my videos, because we don't have enough time and energy to deal with so many people who may criticize and give their opinions without having done their homework first. When you know that you are speaking the truth, you simply continue, as that skepticism and ridicule do not make you falter. You just go on and on. Especially if your soul is Urmah, because we all know how stubborn cats can be.

Speaking about remembering past lives, I know that some people who are among those who haven't done their homework say that what I write is way above the mental capacity of a 17-year-old girl, as averages on Earth perhaps. But remember that I am not fully human and I do hold extensive past life memories. Yes, my body is 17 years old, but my soul is a lot older. I will leave it there. This subject about artificial intelligence is very extensive. This is only the first part. I will continue shortly with it as I have a lot to say.

This will be all for today. As always, thank you for watching my video and for liking, sharing, and subscribing for more. It helps this channel grow a lot. And I hope to see you here next time.

With much love and appreciation, your friend,

Mari
