

Mari Swa:

Hello again, thank you for being here with me once more. I hope you are very well today. I am Mari.

This information can be seen as science fiction or as the viewer sees best and I post it for entertainment purposes only. Still, I take my information very seriously and for whoever has eyes to see.

I probably don't have to say these next words to those of you who know me well and from some time ago, so this is mostly for the new people in my channel. I don't like to spread fear and concern and messages that lower your vibration. I'd rather empower all of you, reminding you who you truly are and all that you are capable of, even or especially in the face of strong paranormal challenges. So, besides giving you this piece of not so good news, I will also tell you what you can do about it, because you are not defenceless, far from it. It is difficult to talk about this kind of subjects here on YouTube, because everything is very censored and controlled, so I find myself choosing my words carefully and using roundabouts when I could be more direct.

The powers at be who control Earth from inside the planet have always made all kinds of rituals to bring the dark, lower astral entities into the world of the living, mostly for their own benefit, exchanging rights of pass into the material world for favours that mostly involve getting more power and money, among countless other things they want. And this is no news. But, since the April 8th 2024 solar eclipse, we have detected a very large surge of lower astral activity invading the world of the living or material existential realm on Earth.

We have detected this in two main ways or using two methods. The first is the use of highly sophisticated sensor equipment installed in the nose boom of our main starships and fighter class craft, as well as in our 110cm drones. The second is the observation and analysis of observation reports found on the web on Earth. We are fully conscious that most of what is published on the Internet is false, as creepypasta stories are becoming ever more popular, but this in itself is indicative of entity activity interfering with human perception and values, forcing them to move in favour of manifesting more of what they like and want by bringing all those things into humankind's reality.

In that case, you could also argue that I am doing the same thing by telling you all these things. Yet, I strongly think that ignorance and a strong belief that all these paranormal subjects are all made up and unreal are not enough to prevent those entities from strongly interfering with anyone's life. Very much on the contrary. As evidence has proven, they want humanity to consciously think that they do not exist and that they only belong to the realm of science fiction, to prevent humankind from developing strategies and actions against them. All this while also making humanity believe in them or be aware of them just enough to favour efficient energy exploitation, as well as making humanity and its creativity manifest more of them and of what they want.

Remember that all those lower astral entities have little to no direct contact with the greater Source, so they must rely on the creativity and the manifestation capacity of people and creatures with a strong connection to Source, such as the part of humanity that does have a soul, excluding the NPCs, of course, who are also products of the manifestation capacity of humankind. They alone cannot manifest their desired reality nor themselves, so they need real, solid humans to do all that for them.

We study what we find on the web, although we are conscious that most of what you can find there about paranormal encounters and subjects is false or simply creepypastas. We can filter out all those false events and things from the ones that we think may be genuine or real. All this with some practice, as well as knowing what to look for. You can do this as well with some dedication. Then we compare what we find on the web with our own sensor data and although they do not always match, many times they do, and this is from where we draw our best assessments and conclusions.

There has been a very high increase in paranormal activity of all kinds, but especially of entity sightings, including the ones that can be classified as demonic. Since the April 8th solar eclipse, there has been a very large number of people complaining about unusual paranormal activity and also of videos that show lower astral entity activity all over the world, and although the videos themselves are proof of nothing, as they are very easy to falsify, the circumstances around them are not so, so discernment here is very important while making any decision if something is real or not. Sorry to say that paranormal research is not an exact science.

We compared this with our sensor data and they do match. There has been a strong increase in lower astral entity activity as detected by highly sensitive equipment which is comparable with what you call an interferometer on Earth. We attribute this directly to the rituals of pass performed during the eclipse, combined with the use of artificial portals that open bridges between both realities; artificial portals that are mostly hidden in plain sight, passing off as extremely expensive scientific research equipment. You know which one, as I'd rather not mention it here. I must also state that most of the artificial portals are hidden in deep underground installations, most of them under military control.

People all over the world are reporting and even recording on their digital cameras and phones what they call demonic presences and movements around their homes and the buildings where they work, and they say this is occurring mostly after the eclipse and in spaces where that kind of activity was never reported before. People all over the world report the same things over and over again and people who are not connected, so they couldn't have agreed to say the same things. People are sharing over the Internet all kinds of apparitions, shadow people activity, ghosts, including highway and road ones. They are filming the movement of objects, strange shadows and creatures with bizarre shapes, which cannot be attributed to camera glitches and that would be quite hard to falsify. They also inform that strange creatures or people with demonic faces appear in their normal photographs, each time more often. The greater public in general is sharing more and more paranormal incidents of all kinds, including UFOs and crypto animals.

Human paranormal researchers, who are aware of this increase in paranormal activity, mostly dismiss this as collective hysteria. But, in my opinion, even if this would be the case, the appearance of said mass hysteria is also indicative that something unusual is happening.

I am also perfectly aware that people are connected through the collective unconscious of Earth, where they unknowingly pass their information to each other in a telepathic way, and this would also include mass hysteria precursors, as I have explained in other videos. But even mass hysteria is a strong indicative that there is some kind of strong disturbance in the telepathic, collective, unconscious field of Earth. But I do not believe this is a case of mass hysteria, as our sensor data, which is quite conclusive, does show innumerable hot spots on Earth where the lower astral is crossing over to the world of the living.

This is seen when a starship or a drone draws a frequency map in its computer, where the frequency range we know belongs to the lower astral overlaps with the frequency range we know belongs to the material world. I can describe this with a graph where several spikes of lower astral frequency punch through the delicate barrier that separates the lower astral realm from the material world. Those spikes are present all the time, but have increased dramatically since the April 8th eclipse.

When we place the location of those spikes over a traditional map, they mostly correspond to the places where paranormal activity is to be expected, such as abandoned buildings, houses, new and old, and places such as churches, old monasteries, graveyards, sport stadiums, government buildings, military installations, jails and even road crossings and other areas with large amounts of accidents.

There is no real barrier between the astral and the world of the living. As I have explained before, what separates both realms, as well as any other, is the range of perception of the people who inhabit such realms, and what they have personally and collectively agreed are the limits of their worlds. What defines a realm is only the ideas and the capacity of its inhabitants to perceive and to understand what surrounds them, all of which is only a reflection of their level of consciousness and a mirror of who they truly are. And this means that all that separates the world of the living from the lower astral, or whatever other astral or heavenly realm, are the ideas of the people in each one; ideas that, in the end, are things, as all matter spawns from concepts held in the mind of those with a soul and who manifest them as part of who they are.

Rituals of all kinds, like those the Cabal uses to summon dark entities, are nothing more than ideas, but ideas are things, as I said. Those rituals are giving permission to pass over from one realm to the other, because everything works with rules, and rules are again ideas. And words are also things, as they are a compressed form of agreed ideas and they hold great power as well, especially when combined in a specific order. But know that rules and ideas also exist in the astral realms and as they are lighter in general, less dense than the so-called material world, those ideas and concepts are stronger, more in the shape of a material, solid barrier that prevents entities to pass from one side to the other.

Yet, I insist that such a barrier is only of a mental form, only based on ideas, and that is precisely why it can be overcome by words and more ideas, especially when they are linked to perceptions and levels of awareness. And this brings us to what you can do about all this.

In the first place, realize that there is a very real war between good and evil on Earth, everywhere, yes, but it is far more overt on Earth. It is a war for the minds and the hearts of the souls incarnated there and those trapped there in the astral realms as well. It is a war of thoughts and concepts and of values and ethics. This is why the Cabal and its dark controllers do everything possible to confuse and mislead the human population, so they cannot know what is real and what is not, so they cannot have firm values and ethics.

The reason why they are opening so many portals, which are nothing other than idea based bridges between realms, is because they see the good side stronger than ever. They need to bring as many demons and dark lower astral entities as they can into the world and into the perception of the living to counteract the good work all of you, dear starseeds, are achieving. As the light rises, so does the dark to match it, and vice versa as well. This is a law for any realm bound by the perception of duality. You are far from helpless, and this is why they must summon as much demonic help as they can. They fear you, and that is why you must never fear them, because fear is their weapon, not yours. Do not confuse caution and prudence with fear. There is much danger in all this, but nothing you cannot handle.

As there is danger in all this, do not mingle and do not mess with things you do not understand. So stay away from all kinds of dubious or dark rituals. Know that they are not entertainment, and they are not harmless. They flood the media with rituals of all kinds, especially in movies, series and music, but not only, because even the symbols of many of their corporations hold ritualistic meanings. They do this not only to normalize rituals and the demonic with the greater population by repetitive exposure, but also because they grant pass to lower astral entities over the people who like and who are exposed to all this.

If you have a haunting or a ghost in your house, do not interact with it unless it is absolutely necessary. And it is at this time when you must be firm with it, telling the entity that you know it is there and that you do not agree with its presence, as the world of the living is no place for a spirit. Friendly spirits and ghosts do exist, but they are rare and far apart, so what you have there is most probably something you most definitely do not want near you.

Good souls tend to go to the afterlife and follow their own path, so it is the dark ones who get trapped between worlds. It is those with a lot of hate and a lot of resentment who are left behind, or who choose to be left behind, in the dark, lower astral. Those are tricksters and liars, so do not believe what they say or what they make you think, even though they may also do one or another good action, because it may be only a manipulative strategy.

But, overall, do not summon them, because what will come through most certainly is not good, and remember that they too can impersonate someone else, a loved one you may be trying to contact, for example. They do that all the time. They make you believe they are someone else. And please remember, never ever label or give a name to a ghost, as this is also a strong way to give it the right of pass.

This is not a fun game and it can quickly get out of hand, and if that happens, it will be very difficult for you to get any help, as modern science and society are still at the level of thinking all this is unreal, under the lame excuse that there is no proof, when in fact there is proof of the paranormal and its activity all over the place and all over Earth, and this is quite evident for whoever has eyes to see. This subject will continue soon.

As always, thank you for watching my video and for liking, sharing and subscribing for more, and I hope to see you here next time.

With much love.

Mari Swaruu
