

Mari Swa:

Hello again. Thank you for being here with me once more. I hope you are very well today. I am Mari.

Welcome to my channel. This information can be seen as science fiction or as the viewer sees best and I post it for entertainment purposes only. Still, I take my information very seriously, and for whoever has eyes to see.

I am writing this on the morning of November 8th, 2024. Before I continue, I feel the most censored in this kind of videos, as I simply cannot speak freely or say all I know here on YouTube, which is very frustrating for me.

The first item for today: At the same time that I published my videos about deluge where I stated the possibility that the universal or worldwide biblical flood may have occurred several times, not only once, and that the last one may have been as recently as 200 years ago, a terrible flood tragedy was occurring in the area of Valencia in Spain, with a replica happening in Barcelona as well. As I mentioned in my videos about the deluge, there is worldwide evidence not only of several gigantic floods but also of mud flows of such gigantic proportions that they buried or half-buried entire cities and fairly recently.

Although that flood or floods may be the consequence of genuine natural disasters, such as the falling water of the destroyed planet Tiamat, there is another aspect, explanation, or possibility which I was about to include in that video and I did not, and now I resent not having.

Weaponizing weather is nothing new. It is simply not so much in the public domain, not as a weapon but as simple climate manipulation. Many governments openly accept using cloud seeding and other techniques to alter the weather, even in third-world countries. It would be quite naive to assume that governments would not use their latest versions of weather manipulation technology as a weapon, especially when deniability is so easy when they use it. Therefore, all those cities that have strong evidence of having been flooded and buried with mud can also be the result of deliberate attacks using weaponized weather, as we just saw in Spain.

Artificial weather manipulation has been around on Earth officially at least since the decade of 1930. It was most probably also used during the Second World War, and it was most certainly used during the Vietnam War. But as I have mentioned countless times before, the history of planet Earth is very different from the official version. Therefore, it is easy to assume that advanced weather manipulation and weaponization existed well before the decade of 1930, but in the hands of Earth's controllers.

High technology, in general, has existed on Earth for thousands of years, and they only make believe one or another item of it is new and recently developed when it is convenient for them. Therefore, it is not so far-fetched to consider the very real possibility that weaponized weather was deliberately used during the last social reset that evidence points out occurred as recently as 200 years ago.

And yes, that ship full of strange antennas and equipment, at least most of you out there have seen near Valencia, Spain, has everything to do with the floods. So much more to say. I feel so gagged.

So, carrot. I don't like to go into politics because I see them very differently than the majority of the human population, and they generate a lot of illogical passion I do not wish to mess with. All I can say is that I see him as the lesser of two evils, yet still just another puppet member of a global mechanism that controls both sides and only places one against the other as a play, as part of the human experience. Yet, everything is controlled from above.

As Mark Twain said, and I quote, "If voting made a difference, they wouldn't let us do it." And as a side note, there is debate whether he actually said that or not. And as someone else said, the powers that be would never let the commoner decide who will be in power.

From where I stand, it is all theatre, where they cause a problem to sell the public a solution, and politics is no exception. It is a distraction for the people so they cannot add the dots to see who is really in power and controlling their lives. The controllers of Earth like to attack the people in waves, where they tighten the noose around the people's necks for a few years and then they loosen it for a few more to give them hope and a false sense of control, only to tighten it again a lot more each time. So the people accept all the changes and rules against them that, if done all at once, they would not have.

They also use extensive fear tactics against the people so they return to their primordial reactions based on pure survival, making them move away from the rational mind, therefore causing a mass psychosis where the masses all together can do horrible things that no normal citizen would do otherwise when alone.

Most people still wrongly assume that what the masses believe is the truth, as they do not have the strength to think on their own. And as George S. Patton said, and I quote, "If everyone is thinking alike, then somebody isn't thinking." I would rather say that if everyone is thinking alike, then no one is thinking.

I am not in favor of any Earth politician, as I am well aware of what is behind all of them and of the Federation sick game. All I wish is that at least something good may come to the people. I'll end this subject here.

In other subjects, I proposed the construction of four bridges in Toleka City, Temmer, two new hospitals, one to the north of the city and the other to the south, as well as the construction of another leaf skyscraper to house a new public library and data center. I also proposed the construction of a new museum dedicated to Taygetan space travel, which will be located in the space next to the Space Academy's headquarters. On the opposite side of the Space Academy building, I also proposed the construction of a new dormitory, recreation and sustenance building for space cadets, complete with conference rooms, mess halls, and a leisure activity centre.

They have all passed the public inspection, and the population of Toleka City has accepted all but one of my construction proposals: one of the bridges. This is because it would be constructed over a mangrove area of the river, which is a nesting site for pygmy ducks, a very cute species not found on Earth. The adults of this species rarely grow larger than a small pigeon.

When I planned that bridge, all I had to guide me were hyperactive, accurate holograms of the area here in starship Sadicleya, and that mangrove was not included in it. Anyhow, I am so happy that Taygetans can be so respectful to nature.

A few comments from other videos, which I feel the need to clarify, as it had fed speculation: When I went undercover to Temmer using full immersion communications technology, I entered Toleka City in the lower arches of the secondary entrance of the High Council great hall, and then I exited through an APC truck. My friends carried me physically from the full immersion room to the truck without me realizing they had, as they did not know how to remove me from the immersion and they did not know how to give me an exit. The immersion room is quite close to the forward section of the main hangar, so it was quite easy for them.

No mystery here.

The reason why I had bodyguards while in immersion, and even an APC truck, was only for training protocol reasons for my two Shinonim friends and guards, Kassia and Alia. I didn't need protection, but it was convenient as I didn't know how to handle a large group of people around me and how to remove myself from them diplomatically.

I am now planning a second undercover incursion into Toleka City, this time completely alone, with no one else there with me, and with a new gadget this time, a frequency blocker or suppressor so the Taygetan population cannot detect me using immersion technology with their special sunglasses, because that is how they finally busted my cover and found me. This time, I will enter by myself in one predetermined place in the city, and I will exit the full immersion experience using the same spot, unlike the first time where I wandered off arbitrarily, not thinking I had to return to my entry point.

This will be all for today. As always, thank you for watching my video and for liking, sharing, and subscribing for more, it helps this channel grow a lot, and I hope to see you here next time.

With much love and appreciation.

Your friend,

Mari Swa
