

Mari Swa:

Hello again. Thank you for being here with me once more. I hope you are very well today. I am Mari.

Welcome to my channel. This information can be seen as science fiction or as the viewer sees best, and I post it for entertainment purposes only. Still, I take my information very seriously, and for whoever has eyes to see. I am writing this on the morning of December 18th, 2024.

So, what's going on with all those drones showing up worldwide? I know this subject is a must for me to write about, as just about everyone out there would like to know what I think about them and what I know about them due to my unique position up here. First of all, being up here in low Earth orbit does not give me all the answers, and I must also tell you that as the entire crew of the starship Sarka and I have been terribly sick, we have lost a lot of time to see and observe world affairs. But I am personally getting up to speed with all of them.

I cannot know with absolute certainty what is going on with those drones and UAPs showing up in swarms all over the world. Yet I do know a few things that I can share with you, as well as the conclusions my group and I have arrived at. First of all, what people are seeing is a collection or a soup of several types of drones, not only one kind. Initially, they were all of human origin and continue to be mostly so. Yet due to the hype and all the media fuss, non-human Federation and non-Federation star races deployed their own drones to go watch what those human-made ones are doing. This is only local, as every star race in Earth's orbit knew that those drones were human. So after the initial sightings of countless human-built drones, the skies were filled with drones that were there to look at the drones, creating some kind of party mess in the sky, which included Taygetan drones as well. As a side note, as one of our 110 cm drones was there gathering information, it detected and was detected by an Urmah drone which was also there to see what was going on. Funny that in the process, we received a short message from the Urmah ship Aven-1 saying, «We see you observing what is going on closely.»

We can see that the human drones being used are very advanced and of different types and models, many of which are commercial big drones, although a few of them are highly advanced machines that were kept secret from the public precisely to be used in a psychological operation such as this one we are seeing. So what is going on? We conclude that what is happening is a complex psychological operation being conducted by intelligence organizations such as the CIA and its coordinated henchmen counterparts which belong to other countries. One thing you must be aware of is that the CIA and its affiliates work to defend the interests of the secret societies that make up the deep cabal, which controls the government behind the governments. Those intelligence organizations are compartmentalized, so while one branch is doing something more mundane, another may be developing a psychological operation such as the one we are seeing. And when they do so, they do not inform anyone about it. Therefore, governments and appointed officials are kept in the dark just as the rest of the public is.

Now we know it is a psychological operation because first of all, they are using human-built drones, most of which are quite normal. Then we can see that the media has been let loose to transmit and even exaggerate what is going on, when historically they are known to do the opposite: to deny and hide anything that has to do with possible extraterrestrial craft. Watch what media platforms are transmitting the drone subject the most, and you will see that it is the big official ones, those which the establishment, the cabal, controls the most, leaving all the other smaller ones as copycats wanting to follow the official narrative, as is to be expected.

A psychological operation is mostly used as a distraction from other things, so watch how the news about the drones and all the speculation about them opaque or even remove other new subjects which could be more important, especially when they fill the time with useless and empty opinions coming from politicians and people in similar positions who know absolutely nothing about what is going on. When something that smells like a psychological operation appears in the media and is being over-hyped and overshared to the point we see today with the drones, we must look around to see what else is going on in the world and what they want to hide or what they want to cause the public to stop looking at. Many strong things are going on in the world at this time, and we can only speculate about what event or group of events they want to distract the public from. But one of the most important events, besides the multiple wars and refugee problems, is the transition of power from President Biden to Trump in the United States, although it affects the entire world.

Another reason for a psychological operation such as the one we are seeing is to prepare the public to normalize UFO/UAP sightings. This may also be used to test the public's reactions when faced with a swarm of supposedly non-human craft, so the cabal and its control mechanisms such as intelligence agencies can know how much the people can tolerate and what direction is needed to guide the population towards what they want. This «drone festivity» event, to call it somehow, is obviously closely tied up to the false alien invasion which is widely known to be in their plans as one of their next major false flag operations. Yet the false alien invasion is so widely known that they must do it with the utmost realism or it will not be convincing enough. The false alien invasion is out and in the wind to the point that even the most square and Matrix news media already mentions it freely. And although its secrecy has been lost, it does not mean that the cabal would remove it from their plans, as they know that the bulk of the human population will still fall for it, and with them forcing the rest of the skeptical population to be swept along with the tsunami current of mindless idiots.

To observe what is going on as a psychological operation, ask yourself: why is this happening now and what else is going on in the world? Then ask yourself who benefits from such an operation and who has the means to pull it off. Ask yourself what they gain from it, why they saw it as necessary or as a good idea. Then analyze if such a psychological operation causes events that will bring about new, more oppressive laws. Ask yourself what is being lost and what the general public will lose because of it. Take into account the mentality of all those psychopaths in true places of power, where they constantly use the same tools to get away with forcing their changes on the human population. They always use the same recipe, and it is to cause a problem to sell the solution. So in this case, what problem are the drones causing and what possible solution they may want to impose upon the human population, most certainly under the lame excuse of public safety?

In my opinion, yes, they are preparing the human population. They are setting the psychological state of mind in the people to stage the upcoming false alien invasion. It looks like this psychological operation is meant to normalize the existence of extraterrestrials, even though what they normalize will most certainly be imposing the concepts and the ideas the controllers want people to think about extraterrestrials, and not how they really behave, think, and are. This way, the cabal will control what the general public thinks, knows, and how they react to non-humans. And even though those drones are in the sky today, it does not necessarily mean that the false alien invasion will happen anytime soon, as this may very well fade away only to return with more strength later on, even years from now. Or they may start the false alien invasion right now, escalating their simulations even more.

There cannot be a real alien invasion because Earth is already invaded and completely under the control of the same group of people, leaving countries and the wars between them only as control mechanisms over the human population and part of the sick game of living on Earth. The entire planet is under the direct control of the Galactic Federation, and all secret societies and the governments they control are under their direction. So from the non-human perspective, everything that is going on is only part of the theater.

Returning to the drones, we have detected that many human-made ones are transmitting military frequencies that disrupt normal human telecommunications and are sometimes even detectable from car stereo equipment. We believe that this may be on purpose to create a more realistic «alien» feel about the drones, and it is only part of the same psychological operation. Yet, as I mentioned before, there are many non-human drones among those human ones as well, which may be responsible for real electromagnetic disturbances, such as the ones we could witness in some parking lots in New Jersey where multiple cars were flashing their lights on and off mysteriously. Or the human drones may also be equipped with electromagnetic devices to simulate all that. Yes, it is possible. We have detected advanced human drones taking off from remote areas in the eastern United States and from Air Force bases, as is to be expected. And we have also detected swarms of drones coming out from Antarctica, but which cannot be followed as they are advanced enough to jump from one area to another using faster-than-light technology. If a drone can do that, it does not mean that it isn't human; it only means that they are using secret technology the public does not know about.

Also, take into account that the Galactic Federation is behind everything that is happening on the planet, and they have direct contact and coordination with the deep cabal that controls all the governments. Therefore, if a drone is of non-human origin, of the Federation for example, it does not mean that it does not belong to the cabal that controls Earth and therefore may also be part of the false alien invasion. As far as we have been able to research, drone sightings such as the ones in New Jersey are occurring in several countries as well, many of which may be antagonistic to each other at first sight. Drones have also been sighted over China and even Russia, in the Moscow area, and over some of their air bases. I must remind you here that the deep cabal controls both sides, eastern and western, and a complex psychological operation such as the one we are seeing would be synchronized using their assets in each country.

I know several drones have been either downed or have simply crashed, as is to be expected. Government, police, and other first responders and agencies quickly removed them from the premises, although several civilians witnessed the falling of those objects. If they are operating many human-made conventional and not-so-conventional drones in close proximity, it is only logical for some of them to fail or crash with something like power lines, for example.

The media and everyone else that is either repeating what they say or giving their informed opinion on these sorts of subjects insist that there has been a strong, if not dramatic, increase in UAP or UFO activity worldwide in the last few months. Yet our data from here clearly indicates this is not so, as we have direct communication with Viera traffic control, and we can also see and monitor what is going on with our sensors directly. In my opinion, the increase in activity the media and people worldwide are seeing is because the media has been let free to transmit and even exaggerate and hype everything that has to do with unidentified flying objects as part of their controlled agenda. There have been decades of total silence and even removal and denial of these kinds of extraterrestrial subjects, and all of a sudden, the media explodes with all this as if they were instructed to do so. Watch out for repetitive narratives in the media, where people, mostly news anchors, will say the same things, the same catchphrases, over and over again, even when they belong to different media platforms. This is an indication that a script has been given to them.

No, there is no increase in extraterrestrial activity. It is only the media that has been set loose to the convenience of the cabal and controllers. As any real non-human craft reported in the media will also serve to exaggerate and augment their current psychological operation agenda. This includes all kinds of weird stuff also being reported and that may or may not have anything to do with unidentified flying objects. Remember that fear is a great manipulation tool, and people who fall into it and into their narrative are more likely to obey and follow the directives of their appointed political leaders.

Analyze other psychological operations and false flag events and replace the threat with unidentified flying objects, and you can most likely see that there is a pattern, which is a telltale that it is a staged event. Anticipating that this would escalate, then we would expect to soon see those unidentified flying objects interfering with power grids, causing problems with airports as they progressively invade more airspace, thus also causing near misses with commercial aircraft. Therefore creating a stage where the governments would want to impose new laws, restrictions, and so on. This as they will become something in the face of humanity and society, there would be a need to do something about the UFO problem. We can also expect some kind of global event, a large incident probably with human casualties or claims of direct contact, anything that will enable governments to roll out new laws and also create some kind of alliances with other governments to face the problem. And all this may not even be real, as the technology exists to fake all that they want. And this is what I strongly suggest would be the most probable scenario: everything would be faked and using technology and above-human-understanding artificial intelligence-generated deep fake events and footage.

Remember to stay completely critical and very skeptical of anything that is coming out of the main news media, and also remember that other platforms, including people who may be experts in the field, may also be biased or genuinely misled by authorities and their media. Also, take into account the countless useless idiots who will follow the hype only for likes for their sensationalistic videos. Do not take anything for face value and stay critical and with a clear, cold, analytic mind. Yes, extraterrestrials exist and are all over the place, yet how the governments, the cabal, and their controlled media want to portray them will most certainly not be as aliens really are. And if something is in the main news media, it is there for a manipulative reason, because of an agenda we may be able to see or not. And if it is there, it most probably isn't real and it isn't the truth. Remember that the more you know, the harder it is to be manipulated, so research all you can and use your head. Analyze which is the source of the information and how credible it is, its history of misinformation and of drama, and research who owns those media platforms. Most of the established media platforms, the ones everyone knows, have ties to government three-letter agencies, the intelligence community, and even pharmaceuticals and defense contractors, so you can add the dots now. Sensational headlines are most probably part of a psychological operation. Yet remember that all big news platforms will always carry along a long list of minor ones and of independent YouTube channels that only will repeat their narrative, so beware.

Sending a big hug and a kiss your way. This will be all for today. As always, thank you for watching my video and for liking, sharing, and subscribing for more. It helps this channel grow a lot, and I hope to see you here next time.

With much love and appreciation, your friend,

Mari
