

Mari Swa:

Hello again. Thank you for being here with me once more. I hope you are very well today. I am Mari.

Welcome to my channel. This information can be seen as science fiction or as the viewer sees best, and I post it for entertainment purposes only. Still, I take my information very seriously, and for whoever has eyes to see. I am writing this on the morning of December 25th, 2024.

Hello, my friends. It looks like everyone is still talking about the drones, which seem to be all over the world now, not only around New Jersey where they apparently started to appear. I am here to tell you what I think about them, for whatever it is worth. They are not of extraterrestrial origin. They are all human and belong to governments that are ultimately controlled by the same group of people. So it does not matter if they appear in other places all over the world; they all share the same origin and the same owners. Some are commercial large drones, but others are advanced human-built military-grade ones, which means that the governments know what they are, even though the average second-grade politician may truly be in the dark. The ones in true places of power know everything about them and are playing dumb when they tell the press that they do not know. In my opinion, that Elon guy who many months ago stated that there would be drone fights in the air shortly is in with this, if not responsible for all those drones.

I know I said in my last video about drones that it was a soup, a mixture of human drones and extraterrestrial ones who were there watching, so it was drones there looking at the drones. Yet as days go by, and with the data gathered by my own, I can say that the truly non-human ones are a very small minority, as they usually cannot even be seen by the human population. Besides, true extraterrestrial drones are not interested in being seen, much less giving all those light shows. If a true non-human drone is observed, it is merely by accident because its electromagnetic engine tends to superheat the atmosphere that surrounds it. It is not up there blinking its lights for everyone to see.

And this leads me to the next thing I want to say. All the behavior of all the drones I have observed in the media, in videos on YouTube, and using my own drones, indicates that the overall behavior of all of them is not extraterrestrial. All the phenomena we are observing all over the place does not conform to how non-humans would act, yet it does with how humans do. They are up there in the sky to be seen; that is their purpose, and to create an emotional response in the population. And adding to that emotional response they intend to create is the perfectly and humanly coordinated media hype you are seeing, where everything, thereby design, is intended to over-exaggerate and cause more alarm than what the drones by themselves would cause. The behavior of the drones themselves, plus the behavior of the media, is a clear sign to me that all that is going on is of human origin.

There is advanced, above-human technology drone activity coming out of Antarctica among other places, but as we have observed from here, there is no difference from any other day. It is the normal drone and starship activity traffic we have witnessed from here for years. There is no strangeness either about the non-human drones which appeared over the skies to observe the activity of those human ones, as all non-human races in Earth's orbit, Federation or not, deploy their own drones all the time to watch over whatever event is taking place on Earth. Their presence near Earth is precisely for that: to watch and observe.

I know there have been countless reports of other kinds of drones or of objects in the sky which appear to be far stranger than the normal drone light shows everyone is witnessing. It is now quite common to see lights moving unbelievably fast, orbs, and all kinds of objects which appear to be made of plasma and so on, in the media and videos on YouTube and other platforms. Judging from how the cabal, which controls the media, has behaved before and with the data from my own drones, I see that most of those videos are CGI-created and are a fantasy representation about a light show event in the sky that never happened in reality. What I mean is that most of those events showing highly strange objects in the sky only exist on your mobile phone or TV screen and do not reflect exterior reality.

Having said that, some of the so-called «high strangeness» events, objects, and lights apparently did happen and were witnessed by multiple people. Let me remind you of Project Blue Beam. It is now easy to project into the sky anything they want, not only strange objects to keep the population flabbergasted and in fear. They could make a rhinoceros play tennis with a fire truck in the sky if they wanted to. What most people are seeing, which exceeds the capacity of drones, is only a light show. True extraterrestrials have no business making silly light shows to amaze the human population, except for the Galactic Federation, of course. Yet those act through the governments. All that is happening around those drones which have been seen all over the world has nothing to do with true extraterrestrials, and I am quite sure about that because, for whatever it is worth, I would know about it by now.

This brings me to another thing. I am well aware of other extraterrestrial groups which supposedly talk or give messages to some people and which have declared that what you are seeing in the sky is a fight between two non-human factions. I do not wish to discredit anyone, yet I feel it is my duty to state that what those other extraterrestrial groups are saying goes perfectly with the agenda we can also see in the established mass media, as a coordinated agenda to exaggerate what is happening. And what is worse, what those other extraterrestrial groups are saying also goes hand-in-hand with preparing the public for the scheduled false alien invasion coming to your doorsteps soon, along with more loss of freedom, more censorship, and so on. This makes me strongly suspect that those extraterrestrial groups are just more government-controlled disinformation. Again, I must say that I have nothing against those who bother to transmit their information. What I am saying is against governments deliberately simulating extraterrestrial groups giving out messages as more deliberate disinformation. And as for me, well, there is nothing I can say to convince you about who I am, so it is your job to make up your mind. Yet observe how anti-government and skeptical about whatever the media says I have always been.

Those human-built drones are mostly large and very expensive, so you can discard aviation enthusiasts, private groups, and so on, as they simply could not finance so many. You can even forget about foreign governments doing this because, as it also would happen with any private people flying them, the government would have found and neutralized them long ago. Therefore, all those drones belong to the government, including those which are seen in other countries, as there is a one-world government under the table controlling all these kinds of false flag events.

As for why they are doing all this, I can only speculate, as you can as well. As usual, nothing good will come out of this, as it is always against the people. This drone hype will most probably fade away soon, but never entirely, because if it does not, then it can only escalate into the full-blown false alien invasion. And let me remind you once more: the Earth is already invaded. It belongs to the Galactic Federation, which is nothing other than more government, just like the ones you have there, only more expanded. There is no place for extraterrestrial factions fighting in the skies, as it would have been quickly suppressed by now by the Galactic Federation. Humanity is being fooled once more, now with lights in the sky. These are my two cents about the drone subject.
