

Mari Swa:

Hello. Thank you for being here with me once more. I hope you are very well today. This is Marie with another edition of space news.

Welcome to my channel. This information can be seen as science fiction or as the viewer sees best, and I post it for entertainment purposes only. Still, I take my information very seriously, and for whoever has eyes to see. I am writing this on the morning of August 8th, 2025.

The first piece of news for today, and before we go into deeper things: Last Tuesday, a large Alfratan shuttle with 75 people on board which was on final approach to hangar F in the Andromedan Biosphere Viera crashed into an Arcturan heavy-duty workcraft that was moving alongside the biosphere while repairing it after the recent unfortunate events that left it with heavy damage. After the impact, both crafts crashed into the Viera, destroying several levels, including some telecommunication areas and an essential muon antenna. 70 people were injured who are expected to recover well. The wounded include people who were inside the Viera where the ships impacted. The cause of this crash is still unclear to me.

Just 24 hours later last Wednesday, two Black Knight Alfratan fighter ships flying in formation crashed into each other while overflying Western Brazil at high altitude. Both ships managed to limp back to their base in the Viera for repairs. The four pilots and co-pilots had only minor injuries and are expected to recover fast. The cause of this incident is said to be a thrust stabilizer malfunction, but my people in the Andromedan Biosphere ship say that alcohol may have been a factor and that the thruster malfunction is just a cover-up. 9.8 out of every 10 incidents involving starships in Earth's orbit involve Alfratans. And even though they are by far the most numerous star race here, statistically, there are still too many crashes to explain why this is so.

Although this may seem somewhat funny, especially when no one was seriously hurt, seven star races around Earth have declared that they do not want to be placed in orbits near Alfratans, nor do they want to maneuver near them. This reaction was started by the Arcturans after the last incident. The Alfratan High Command has stated that the reaction is unfair and that they do not want to be ostracized. They blame the last incident on the Arcturian's heavy crane ship suddenly moving fast when it first looked like it was not moving from the perspective of the shuttle, which had already taken for granted that it was a still object. The Arcturans, on the other hand, blame the incident on the Alfratans and their love for booze, which makes them prone to being parasitized by astral entities who need chaos. What I must say is that approaching and entering the Andromedan Viera has become very hazardous because of the large amount of heavy construction and repair equipment all around it, all belonging to the Arcturian Das Klee'en'Kleex. We noticed this well before this last mishap. The triad, Antaria, Urmah, and Taygeta Alcyone Council, remain neutral about this incident.

Moving to something else, we have noticed a large number of fully artificial strong weather events all over the Earth, mostly caused by what airplanes throw and by specially equipped ships. We have also detected several artificially caused quakes, including the one in Russia. These are especially easy for us to know when they are natural or artificially triggered because of the different tremor and vibration patterns, where the naturally occurring ones start slow, even if it is only for a few instants, and then increase to their full strength to then diminish progressively. Contrasting, the artificially triggered ones start fast at nearly full power, like resulting from an explosion, and then progressively diminish, most of the time a lot faster than the naturally occurring ones. The artificial ones are caused by bombarding the known weak spots in a tectonic fault with specific high energy waves coming from a device of the kind whose name sounds like a certain stringed musical instrument that is usually large and is played with your fingers.

Before the incident, I reported here the presence of a ship equipped with such an instrument moving north from Hokkaido Island in the direction of the Kamchatka Peninsula. Another thing that points to this being artificial and produced by strong electromagnetic waves is the large number of whales and marine animals that have lost their way and beached themselves right after the earthquake. Fortunately, I understand that at least most of them were successfully returned to the sea. Thank you, humans. That earthquake was not the only one to be artificially triggered, and they have managed to disturb the natural equilibrium of the volcanoes around the Ring of Fire of the Pacific. Although all volcanoes are connected from below, I must issue a special warning for Mexico, as logic and history dictate that the cabal may trigger a large earthquake or a series of them in the next 90 days, with a peak of probability come September, as they love to repeat their wrongdoings and attacks more or less on the same dates and sometimes exactly to the date. This is not a prediction. It is only an educated guess based on historical events and on the knowledge that the cabal has Mexico as a target for several reasons. Although this can extend to all of Central and South America, so they may also consider themselves warned as they are playing with the entire Pacific Ring of Fire.

I will now proceed to disclose why they are targeting Mexico specifically. I declassified the following information. This is the direct result of the investigations and the research conducted by Taygetan special operatives working directly on the surface of the Earth and in that exact area. You can see here why they are so essential. Mexico is a concentrating hub or hot spot for all the illegal activities of the entire Latin American region. All illegal substances, contraband of all kinds, and Lyran trafficking concentrate in Mexico as they attempt to pass them all towards the North American market. This is done at several levels, from the most basic one made up by common low-class criminals to the highly organized cabal-sponsored trafficking equipped with high-velocity magnetic trains and elaborate DUM and tunneling systems that connect Mexico and Latin America with its North American counterparts. They all stop in above and underground Mexico before being organized and distributed to their North American destinations. Please read your screens as I cannot say this next information out loud. I am going silent now.

And we have found out a lot more details about all this, details which are best that I do not share. This is why the cabal government is so aggressive against Mexico lately and is augmenting its power and actions all over the globe, as they know that there is another player that can best them. Mexico is the biggest hub for all this illegal activity, but there are other hubs we have also detected. One in the Middle East, I can't say where on this media platform, but that alone is the clue for you to know. Another in Ukraine, and yet another in Thailand, among other smaller ones. All of which I might disclose shortly, as I did today for Mexico.

This will be all for today. As always, thank you for watching my video and for liking, sharing, and subscribing for more. It helps this channel grow a lot. And I hope to see you here next time.

With much love and appreciation, your friend, Mari.
